S-47 – XXXVI Symposium of the Scientific Instrument Commission

Scientific Instruments Commission

Organizers:
1) Silke Ackermann (SIC President), (Museum of the History of Science, University of Oxford, UK), silke.ackermann@mhs.ox.ac.uk
2) Marcus Granato, (Museu de Astronomia e Ciências Afins - MAST, Brazil), marcus@mast.br
3) Michael Korey, (Mathematisch-Physikalischer Salon, Staatliche Kunstsammlungen Dresden, Germany), Michael.Korey@skd.museum

Abstract:
This will be the 36th annual meeting of the Scientific Instrument Commission. Its objectives are: i) disseminate scholarly research on the history of scientific instruments and the preservation and documentation of collections of instruments, as well as their significance and use within the wider discipline of the history of science; ii) provide meaningful exchanges among the SIC community and, more broadly, among the IUHPST/DHST community; iii) stimulate interest and awareness towards the SIC and scientific instrument collections in Brazil and South America. In alignment with the ICHST 2017, the XXXVI SIC Symposium theme will be 'Scientific Instruments between the Global and the Local'. It will encompass 8 sessions (2 each afternoon 26-27 July at the Praia Vermelha Campus and 4 sessions [whole day] on July 28 at the MAST in São Cristóvão).

Keywords: Scientific instruments – History of Science, Technology and Medicine – Scientific Heritage – Scientific collections – Material culture of science, technology and medicine.

Participants:
- Leonardo Gariboldi
- Razieh S. Musavi
- Janet Laidla
- Tania P. Dominici
- Guedj Muriel
- Ethel Rosemberg Handfas
- Télio Cravo
- Sam Alberti
- Zhang Nan
- Frémont Mathilde
- Marvin Bolt, Michael Korey
- Sofia Talas, Fanny Marcon
- Pierre Lauginie
- Emily Margolis
- Bruno Melo de Araújo
- Jasmin Janka
- Roland Wittje
- Maria Lucia de Niemeyer Matheus Loureiro, Maria Lucia de Niemeyer Matheus Loureiro, Ana Beatriz Soares Cascardo
- Dimitrios Tsimplidis, Lazos Panagiotis
- Claudia Felipe Torres, Lubia Diaz Bernal
- Antoni Malet